REPORT OF THE SELECTMEN

For the Year Ending Feb. 15, 1912.

To the Citizens of Hillsborough :

The custom of previous years of making a considerable reduction of the town debt has this year been found impossible to follow. The town poor account, the moth account, the forest fire account and the state highway account furnish an explanation. The money mentioned in three of these accounts was expended as a necessity. The amount shown in the state highway account in excess of $4795.56, the joint fund, was expended during the last season as a matter of business. So strong was the sentiment in favor of having the macadam road extend from curb to curb through the business section of the village that it was sure to be built after this plan in the near future. This widening could be done much more economically when the central section was built. The sum of $1384.51 was expended in excess of the joint fund.

While a lower tax rate would be desirable it will hardly be possible to reduce many of the appropriations while some will need to be increased. Until all of the plank sidewalks have been replaced with concrete, nearly one thousand dollars will be needed each year for this account. It is possible that the expenses for the town poor cannot be reduced next year and the amount of money needed to suppress the moth pest has increased for a series of years, 130,240 moth nests being removed from the trees of the highways for this season and only 27,604 last year. The moth nests that were made during the season of 1910 were not removed until after counting day for the year ending Feb. 15, 1911, while the nests formed during the summer of 1911 were removed before counting day this year. The amount shown in this account therefore represents the expenses of removing the nests for two years,

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

To the Selectmen and Citizens of the Town of Hillsborough, N. H.:

The Board of Health again presents you its annual report.

The past summer there were many cases of bowel troubles, but not of a virulent type. There were also reported several cases of typhoid fever, all within the Bridge Village, none of which proved fatal. Your Board caused bacteriological examinations made from specimens of milk from all dairies from which the village was supplied and also of the public water supply, all of which were pronounced free from typhoid germs. The source of the disease could not be definitely placed; probably not all were from the same source.

We earnestly advise all householders to see to it that the traps to all sinks and closets are in perfect condition, that all garbage containers be fitted with tight covers and emptied often and that all stables be kept free from an accumulation of offal.

We wish to call attention to Chapter 95, Sect. 2 of the Public Statutes, which is that "No child shall attend any public, parochial or private school unless he has been vaccinated or had the small pox." We are aware that some persons have a prejudice against vaccination. If there are any such in this town will they please remember that your Board did not make the law, but are obliged to enforce it.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN GOODELL,
WARREN P. GRIMES,
LEON E. ANNIS,

Board of Health.

REPORT OF THE FIRE COMMISSIONERS

For the year ending Feb. 15th, 1912

The Board of Fire Commissioners submits the following report :

The department has been called out but five times and by prompt work the damages were very small—less than two hundred dollars for the whole, which is certainly a good showing. There have been eighteen still alarms for chimney fires, etc., which Chief Newman has attended to with little expense.

During the past season the department has been out several times for drills and practice, which has made the boys much more efficient. Keep up the good work !

The Eastman perfection holders, nozzles and deluge set were added the past year and we consider that the department is in better shape than ever before, both in equipment and efficiency of its members. A few necessary articles have been recommended to the board by the chief which without doubt will be added the coming year.

In regard to fire escapes, a few more have complied with the law since our last report. There are several yet that ought to be attended to without delay. We cannot emphasize the fact too strongly in this matter and most of us have read of serious results happening the past year in this state.

The street sprinkling for last season was well attended to and we recommend its continuance.

Iron pipe now extends from Loon Lake to a point about half way up the north-west side of Bible Hill.

The commissioners also laid 573 feet 2 inch galvanized iron pipe on Briggs St., costing $221.73, and 83 feet 2 inch galvanized pipe on Central St., at an expense of $25.57, all of which has been charged to "Extension account," entering into Construction.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

To the Citizens of Hillsborough:

The School Board of the Town School District respectfully submits its Annual Report:

The town maintained seven schools during the fall and winter of 1910-11 and eight schools in the spring. The census of 1910 showed one hundred and nine school children in the district, while that of 1911 numbered but eighty-nine.

No repairs have been made this year other than have been absolutely necessary for the comfort of the schools and the welfare of the buildings.

The severity of the winter weather has necessitated more wood being purchased than in a milder winter.

It is becoming more and more difficult to find pupils capable of caring for the schoolhouses in cold weather, as more of the older boys attend High School than formerly. This means that someone outside the school must be found to act as janitor and necessitates more pay, as no one likes to make a special trip to the schoolhouse five days in the week for two dollars a term.

Needed for year 1912-13:

High school tuition	$350 00
Flags and appurtenances	10 00
Books and supplies

$360 00

Report of Superintendent of Schools

Members of the School Board:

I respectfully submit the following report concerning the schools of the Hillsboro Town District for the year ending February fifteenth, nineteen hundred twelve.

The schools opened last spring with an almost revolutionary change of teachers. Miss M. Eckless Nay succeeded Miss Ethel M. Farley at the Bear Hill school; Miss Pansy Allen, Miss Edith M. Emerson at the Center school; Miss Elmar I. Shedd, Miss Edith L. McAdams at the Concord End school; Miss Harriet A. Smith, Miss Janet C. Robertson at the Merrill school; and Miss Edith M. Emerson, Miss Bessie M. Kimball at the Upper Village school. Miss Edith L. McAdams taught the Flat school.

At the beginning of the fall term, Miss Eva B. Ash took charge of the Center school; Miss Hazel M. McClintock, the Goodell school; Miss Nina M. Spofford, the Merrill school; and Miss Elsa I. Spofford, the Upper Village school.

The teachers for the winter term appear later in this report.

An examination of the list of changes in the teaching force during the past eight terms brings to light some interesting facts. During this period, the Lower Village school and the Goodell school have each had two teachers; the Concord End school, three teachers; the Center and Bear Hill schools, four teachers each; the Upper Village school, five teachers; and for eight terms previous to its closing in November, the Merrill school had six teachers.

According to the prevailing thought in educational circles, this is a state of affairs that works against progress and efficiency in school work. Some of the causes for this condition are not hard to discover. The school year is short, the salaries are low, the schools are small and isolated, parents sometimes overvalue the statements of children regarding injustices, real or fancied, and consequently are led to magnify the shortcomings of a teacher and to minimize her valuable qualities. This frequently leads to a desire to try another teacher whose characteristics are as yet unknown, but who, subjected to the same ordeal, passes through the experiences of her predecessor. This may be overdrawn so far as many cases are concerned, but there are instances where this picture would come short of representing the whole truth.

The cure is not so easily stated. A longer school year; larger salaries; tactful, trained teachers; and a better understanding between parents and teachers would, I think, go far toward solving the problem of how to avoid frequent changes.

One other reason for urging a longer school year is that the present law regarding work certificates for those between the ages of fourteen and sixteen requires that the applicant shall have attended school at least three hundred half days during the year preceding the issuing of the certificate, or previous to the date that he became fourteen. If there are only thirty weeks in the school year and some days are lost on account of holidays or illness, it becomes impossible to secure a certificate. The year should be at least thirty-two weeks in length to cover this contingency.

In spite of the handicaps mentioned, the work of the year has been done quite satisfactorily. The teachers have worked for the welfare of their pupils, and have seen them progress. Sickness has interfered in some cases. Some have not attended as regularly as they should, thus making necessary a call from the truant officer.

During the spring term, the Flat school was open. At the close of the fall term, the Merrill school was closed. The number of pupils at the Concord End school is so small that it is worth while to consider whether it would be wise to have a school there in the spring.

For financial reasons, it has seemed best this year not to have special music instruction in all the schools. Accordingly, the music supervisor visits the Bear Hill and Lower Village schools one week and the Center and Concord End schools the next week.

Report of the Board of Education

The outlook for the high school is very encouraging and at the same time serious—encouraging because of the number of pupils, the largest in its history, and serious because it will soon over-run the seating capacity of the assembly room. There are now 9 seniors, 7 juniors, 24 sophomores and 29 freshmen with the prospect of a very large entering class in the fall of 1912. Small classes will go out for the next two years and large classes remain and enter.

We would call your attention to the article in the warrant to provide for fire escapes which the law at any time may make compulsory.

Some extra expenses have occurred this year. One was the rebuilding of the chimney which was in a dangerous condition and the wonder is that it stood as long as it did. A second was the remodeling of the commercial room demanded by the large number of students in that department. A third was the building of the ventilating stack which has worked admirably.

We would ask you to consider the recommendations of the superintendent found in his report.

An appropriation for a storm porch on the School street entrance and additional storm windows will be recommended by the board.

All departments are progressing satisfactorily and all teachers doing very conscientious work.

Report of Superintendent of Schools

Members of the School Board:

I respectfully submit the following report concerning the schools of the Hillsboro Special School District for the year ending February fifteenth, nineteen hundred twelve.

We were unusually fortunate during the school year ending last June in that we were not obliged to have any changes in the teaching force. Near the close of the year, however, Mr. G. F. Murdock tendered his resignation as principal of the high school, and Miss Mildred H. Clark, hers, as teacher of the second grade. Mr. G. Hampton McGaw, a graduate of Wesleyan University in Connecticut and a teacher of considerable experience, accepted the principalship of the school. No successor was appointed for Miss Clark because it seemed possible to plan the work of the grades so that it could be done with one less teacher than heretofore. This has worked out very well, although it places in some rooms fully as many pupils as should be cared for by one teacher.

The arrangement referred to gave an opportunity to enlarge the commercial room which was very much crowded. The temporary partition which separated the second grade room from the commercial room was moved so as to make a small room for the typewriters. This left a good-sized and well-lighted room for the commercial classes. In this were placed twenty-four new desks much better suited for the commercial work than the ones that had been in use.

The present indications are that the work of the grades next year can be done by the same number of teachers as this year without crowding the rooms any more than at present. It might be well in the near future, however, to require that all beginners should be at least six years of age before the date of opening of school in September, and that no beginners, unless of compulsory school age, should be admitted during the school year after the first four weeks of school. For the coming year, there might be allowed a leeway until the first of November regarding the age limit of admission; that is, all who would be six years of age before that date might be permitted to enter.

Two reasons for advocating this change are that in the minds of many educators this is early enough for children to undertake the serious work of the school; and, in our own case, with an eight year program of study, this will regularly bring the pupils to the high school between the ages of fourteen and fifteen, which, ordinarily, is early enough in the development of the pupil for him to take up the work required.

The question of where to seat the probable number of high school pupils this coming year is a serious problem. At present, there are sixty-nine members of this school. Next year there may be eighty or more. A few more seats can be placed in the main room, although it is as full as it should be now. A few pupils, if necessary, could have their study desks in the commercial room. These are possible solutions.

The popularity of the commercial studies is shown by the fact that so many of the students elect them. To provide for these pupils, it became necessary to purchase a third typewriter this year. In all probability, we shall have to buy two more to supply the demands next year.

In order to relieve the annual congestion of papers to be read at the close of the school year, and also to furnish an additional incentive for good work on the part of the pupils of the eighth grade, those whose rank for the year in any subject is eighty per cent. or more will be excused from the final examination in that subject.

The drinking fountains recommended in my last report and installed during the summer vacation are satisfactorily accomplishing the end for which they were designed and are fully appreciated.

The ventilating stack, also recommended in the same report and also put in place during the summer vacation, has greatly improved the sanitary conditions. The odor so frequently noticed heretofore in the hallways between the old and new parts of the building is now perceptible only on rare occasions. Thin paper held near the inlet of the stack at almost any time indicates immediately that the foul air from the basement sanitariums is being drawn up the shaft according to expectations.

The plan of laying a new floor in one schoolroom each year should be continued until all the rooms and hallways are provided with new floors. Fresh paint and kalsomine applied to the walls and ceilings would greatly improve the appearance of the interior of the building. Adjustable furniture for all the rooms would also be a decided improvement.

With this report, I submit the reports of the Principal of the High School, the Supervisor of Music, and the Supervisor of Manual Arts.

FREDERICK L. KENDALL,
Superintendent of Schools.

Report of the Principal

To the Superintendent of Schools :

The work of all departments of the high school is in good condition. A commendable spirit of industry prevails among the students and the outlook for completing, and in several instances exceeding, the state requirements is favorable.

The registration at the present date numbers sixty-nine, thirty-four boys and thirty-five girls.

This school is a member of the Contoocook Valley Baseball League. Such an organization fosters friendly rivalry in athletics and contributes to the development of a healthy school spirit. A rule of the League requires the players on each team to attain an average of seventy per cent. in their school studies.

It is the earnest desire of the Principal to make the school most efficient in its place and opportunity and, to this end, he seeks the co-operation of the home. Parents and friends are always welcome to see the classes at work, and the Principal would be glad to confer with parents about their children on any day at the close of the afternoon session.

Effort is constantly made to correlate the work of the classes with the pupils' immediate and future interests—to show the bearing of topics studied on the life of today. In the variety of courses offered, as the sub-joined daily program shows, a great opportunity exists for many older persons in the village to attend one or more classes in which they are particularly interested. Thus, not a few persons could arrange their time so that they might pursue an hour of study each day, and in the course of a year could make considerable progress in a language, a science, or stenography. It is hoped that some may take advantage of this opportunity and thus increase the value of the school to the community.

G. H. McGAW.

Report of Supervisor of Music

To the Superintendent of Schools:

The work in music in the schools of Hillsboro has been even more satisfactory than it was last year. Right up through the grades, the work has been of a high order, carefully learned, thoroughly drilled into the minds of the pupils by the painstaking grade teachers.

In the first grade, the rote songs are learned most accurately with unusually good tone quality. The work in sight reading is also progressing well. The second grade is using the First Reader, individual slips and doing board work. The third grade is well along in the First Reader, second series of sight slips, etc. The work in the fourth and fifth grades and sixth and seventh is well worthy of notice. Under the enthusiastic teaching of the two Miss Lanceys the work is progressing with a bound. The singing is of a high order, correctly sung, with shading and good spirit. Two part and three part music is done in these rooms. Scales, major and chromatic, have been written and the theoretical work seems to be most soundly and thoroughly instilled into their minds. The eighth grade is doing still more advanced singing, having four-part music. It is a delight to hear them sing for each part is well supported. The room is the possession of many good voices this year, one bass being lent it daily from Miss V. Lancey's room. Another feature worthy of notice is the writing of original melodies fitted to words given them. This is being done in the three rooms and has been very good.

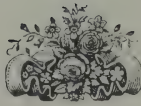

The high school is somewhat of a problem. As is the case everywhere, not all of the pupils sing, nor wish to, though we are furnishing music that we have selected as the most attractive to their interest. Still there are enough good singers among the boys and girls to make a good chorus.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the teachers for their faithful co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

GERTRUDE E. CLARK,
Supervisor of Music.

Report of Supervisor of Drawing

To the Superintendent of Schools :

The following report of the Department of Drawing is herewith submitted:

The work in drawing in the grades has been a continuation of the work of last year. I have been using the same outline with but few changes.

The following topics are included in the course in drawing : Illustrative Drawing, Object Drawing, Nature Drawing, Paper Work, Color, Design.

In as many schools as possible, I am putting in manual training without special equipment, along with the drawing, in this way making drawing more practical. The pupils have been furnishing their own materials for the manual work, with but slight expense to themselves, and have shown a very great interest in it. This includes making baskets of raffia and useful objects of cloth and paper, with colored decoration.

The work in the high school is a more difficult problem on account of the limited amount of time. The school is divided into two classes, free hand and mechanical, each class having one half hour's time every other week.

In closing, I wish to thank the teachers for their hearty co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

CATHERINE REAVELEY,
Supervisor of Drawing.
